Andrew Schoultz

Power Structures and Chaos

September 8 - October 6, 2007

Roberts & Tilton is pleased to announce an exhibition of new work by Andrew Schoultz. Power Structures and Chaos will be Schoultz's first exhibition at Roberts & Tilton, installed in the gallery project space. With his distinctively ornate, intricately rendered imagery, Schoultz insinuates a greater state of global frenzy. Themes touching on environmental and social destruction allude to the artist's awareness of both the environment he creates and the one in which he exists. Schoultz addresses confined space with unlimited possibility, based on his penchant for creating large-scale murals in public spaces. Power Structures and Chaos includes elements of Schoultz's paintings, sculptures and murals that result in a dynamic installation.
